Santa Fe Community College (SFCC) Nutrition Courses Fall 2015

For those WIC local agency staff that need additional college level nutrition courses, SFCC is gearing up for the Fall semester. Now is the time to get registered. Gretchen Scott has sent the information about on-line nutrition courses offered by SFCC. Gretchen is saving some seats for WIC students. Out-of-state interested students who are planning to take nutrition courses will need to contact Gretchen by email to register as registration for out-of-state students is not open until the week before the semester begins. Please see detailed instructions on page 2 of the course listings. Gretchen will be out of the office the second week in August but will respond to emails during this time.

If you have any questions feel free to email Gretchen or go online to the public website at www.sfcc.edu for more information about tuition, fees, etc.

Monthly Pop Quiz from the IT Department

We are announcing a Monthly Pop Quiz from the WIC IT Group beginning June 2015. Each month, a question will be introduced in the Newsletter and later that week we will randomly contact M-SPIRIT users for an answer. If the first user contacted provides the right answer, then we will not call anymore users. If the first user fails to answer correctly or is unavailable, we will continue to contact random users until the right answer is given. The user with the correct answer will be acknowledged in the next Newsletter, along with the answer they provided.
